OVERVIEW

Casp 33B also offers a minimalist-style interior design reserved exclusively for only four apartments and created for those who believe that true luxury is based on functionality. Parquet flooring in the living room and hydraulic floor

The renovation carried out at Casp 33B is an example of sensitivity and good sense. The result of conserving and showcasing certain features while renovating others is a balanced combination of tradition and modernity.

Wrought iron, stripped wood, polished marble and restored brass fittings give character to a welcoming vestibule.

The large, bright apartment interiors boast high ceilings in the living and dining areas and main bedrooms.

The apartment boasts a refined, urban style design, combining the luxury of a distinguished building with the comfort and convenience of cutting-edge design, and exquisite features including natural oak parquet flooring, bespoke tile flooring, and ebony and steel door handles. The wardrobes and cupboards are the same colour as the walls, and every detail adds a unique cosmopolitan elegance to the apartment's interior spaces.

A one-of-a-kind property situated in a prime location in the heart of Barcelona.
