Ciutat Vella, or the Old Town is believed by many to be the heart of Barcelona, and comprises primarily of four neighborhoods – El Born, the Barrio Gotico, El Raval and Barceloneta – which are full of old world character, linked by narrow, winding streets. There is a wealth of bars, restaurants, shops and diverse culture throughout the Old Town, making it the obvious first choice for people looking for a property from which to enjoy the best of Barcelona.

The Borne is the quarter of Cuitat Vella to the right of Via Laietana, stretching from Paseo Colon up to Plaza Urquinaona. The top of the Borne can also be referred to as St Pere. Home to the Picasso museum, the newly renovated market of Santa Caterina, the gothic Santa Maria del Mar cathedral, and a wealth of bars and up market boutiques along Passeig de Borne in Barcelona; the Borne has become one of the most popular downtown places to be.

Property in the Borne ranges from apartments of around 60-80sqm and it is occasionally possible to find larger apartments. Original features tend to be very well preserved, with exposed brick walls, beautiful beams vaulted Catalan ceilings and charming wooden details. It is still possible to find renovation projects although these are more and more in demand.

Public transport and local amenities are excellent, and the beaches of Barceloneta and Villa Olimpica are in close proximity.
