OVERVIEW

Comfortable house with southeasterly orientation, a few metres from the beach, in one of the most charming areas of the Costa Daurada.

The entrance to the development where the house is located is via the old Augusta road, near the impressive Arc de Berà, which dates back to the 1st century BC.

The house, with southeasterly orientation, offers great comfort, since it has four bedrooms and two bathrooms on the ground floor, in addition to the common spaces: a living room, kitchen diner and access to terraces and a porch.

The upper floor has a loft study, perfect for hosting guests or as a recreation area, with an additional area of approximately 60 m².

The basement floor houses a garage and a storage room with direct access to the ground floor.

The house is in perfect condition and ideal for families who want to enjoy the proximity of the sea in a natural and quiet environment, but with all services within a few minutes thanks to its proximity to the centre of Roda de Berà, Torredembarra, Tarragona and Barcelona.
