General Pardiniás

Elegant development of 16 homes in a refurbished building for sale in Salamanca, Madrid.

Lucas Fox presents General Pardiñas, an exclusive new build -build development in the heart of the Salamanca district district, Madrid's most coveted area. This boutique development , comprised of 16 apartments of various types, is the result of a meticulous refurbishment of a classic building, implementing a cutting-edge design with top-of-the-range materials.

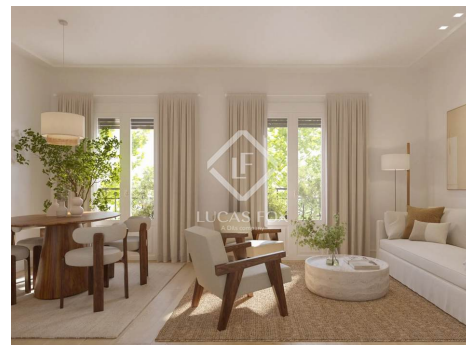

General Pardiñas has been designed with excellence in mind in every detail. The development offers one- and two-bedroom homes, as well as elegant ground floor lofts. Some of the homes stand out for their unique features, such as private balconies, high ceilings, or additional spaces that can be adapted to each resident's needs.

The spacious homes are flooded with light thanks to their large windows and feature an interior design that emphasizes functionality without sacrificing style. For example, the design features natural materials such as wood, neutral tones that maximize spaciousness, and open-plan spaces.

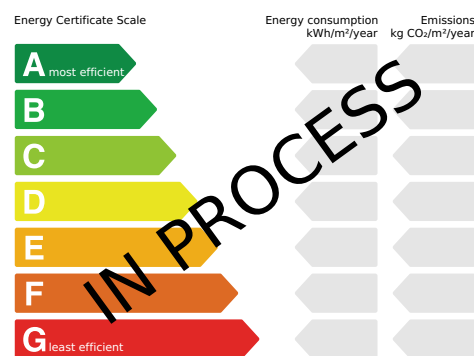

The communal areas are designed to enhance your lifestyle without leaving home: a fully equipped gym, a coworking area ideal for remote work, and common spaces designed to offer well-being and functionality in a contemporary design environment.
