OVERVIEW

Country hotel with 3 buildings arranged as several guest houses, plus the main house with 4 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms, a fireplace, terraces and beautiful views.

In the Guadalhorce river valley, at the foot of the Alora castle, we find this estate of almost 25,400 square metres. After its entrance gate, we will find a path through fruit trees with cherries, raspberries, plums, figs, almond and olive trees, among others. The latter have come to produce 500 litres of oil per season.

Upon arrival in the main area we find a large paved space surrounded by vegetation where two buildings stand out: the main house and another, the construction of which was inspired by a chapel.

The main house is surrounded by a large terrace where its beautiful views of the valley stand out, with different areas to congregate, some covered, culminating in the large terrace where the pool is located.

Upon entering the house, there is a cosy living room with a huge fireplace and a large kitchen separated by the access staircase to the upper floor. We also have an additional room and a bathroom. The entire ground floor has direct access to the terrace through the large double-glazed doors.

On the first floor, there is the master bedroom with its own bathroom and a large terrace, as well as another bathroom and three additional bedrooms, one of them with another terrace.

On the main floor of the chapel we find a spacious room that the current owner used as a painting studio, as well as a fabulous room with its large library for guests.

Under the chapel and with its independent entrance, there is a property with its living room, bathroom, bedroom and a wonderful private terrace.

In addition, a second guest house is offered under the terraces of the main house, with its own paved entrance path, a cosy living room, bedroom and separate bathroom.

The property also features a third two-storey building, spread over two additional guest dwellings with their own bathrooms, one with a huge terrace and private outdoor shower.
