OVERVIEW

Incredible country house on a plot of more than 7 hectares for sale in the middle of nature with an authentic Andalusian atmosphere, surrounded by olive trees, fruit trees and the cattle of the neighbouring farm that graze in the surroundings.

After a partially paved road we access this country property, with the agricultural area of the plot in the first place until you reach the residential area. Once we have reached the residential area, we find a large garage and large gardens and terraces that surround the main house, as well as an extensive cultivation area.

The architecture of this house is characterized by its traditional Andalusian style, although after entering we can see that it is clearly built with the highest qualities. In the first place, we find a large, double-height hall with details such as wooden beams that we will continue to find in other parts of the house. Next, we come to the large, fully-equipped kitchen and the huge living-dining room with its gabled ceilings and a large fireplace in the background. From the living room and the kitchen, we have direct access to the covered terrace, perfectly located to enjoy the extraordinary views of the plot and the pool. This floor is completed with three bedrooms and two bathrooms.

From the hall up the stairs, we access the upper floor, where the large master bedroom with its private bathroom is located.

Heating is installed in all rooms, and the master bedroom has air conditioning.

The plot has two wells that supply the irrigation system necessary to maintain a farmhouse of this size and characteristics.

Do not miss this incredible opportunity and enjoy the tranquillity that this huge home offers.
