La Moraleja is the quintessential residential luxury development since its development in the late 1970s. Since then, La Moraleja has been a melting pot of social and economic power ranging from businessmen, soccer players, artists and members of the high society. An enclave highly desired by those looking for unique residences that coexist with 950 hectares of pines and oaks.

The emblematic development is located 10 minutes from the centre of Madrid and the Barajas airport and enjoys very good communication by public transport.

The development has high security as it has entry and access controls, an alarm system connected to the Conservation Entity and 24-hour mobile patrols, which guarantees a high level of tranquility.

There are 32 national and international private schools in the area such as Runnymede College, ICS, Brewster College, King's College, San Patricio, French Lyceum, European Lyceum, among others. In addition, it has two campuses that the European University of Madrid has in the community.

The development itself has three shopping centers with a wide range of commerce and restaurants as well as private and public hospitals. The development offers two 18-hole golf courses, a tennis club and a paddle tennis club, as well as one of the most attractive gastronomic offerings in Madrid.
