OVERVIEW

Estate with dam and pomegranate production for sale, located in Messejana, Aljustrel, Alentejo

Estate located in Messejana, Aljustrel

Extensive property located in Alentejo, with irrigation typological classification.

The property extends over an area of 815,000 m², containing a typical house for the region with a total construction area of 1,100 m².

The housing is distributed over a social area, with a living room and dining room, and a private area, which comprises three bedrooms and three bathrooms.

In addition to the building intended for residential housing, there are other buildings on the property intended for agricultural activities carried out on the estate, where machinery and utensils for agricultural production are stored.

The property produces pomegranates, but can produce other types of crops associated with irrigation, as it has a dam, three water holes and existing irrigation systems that distribute water throughout the property. Taking into account the possibility of crop diversification, the property will be able to generate greater productivity and profitability.

All existing mansions and sheds are legalized.

The existing built area was renovated in 1998 and is in excellent habitable conditions.
