Beautiful designer seafront house in L'Amettla de Mar

A fascinating seaside house with a strong rural sensibility, somehow combining the warm welcome and comforts of a cosy masia with the features and smart design of a 21st Century luxury villa.

Nestled in lush gardens overlooking the glittering Mediterranean Sea near Tarragona, this architectural wonder combines a fascinating design with exceptional comfort to create a perfect family home by the sea.

The house is seamlessly integrated into its gardens, with natural wood tones that echo the many mature trees, palms and wisterias that are woven into the fabric of the design.

It is divided into two modules, connected by a covered porch that blurs the lines between inside and out and encourages maximum engagement with the perfect Mediterranean climate and lifestyle.

The huge open living area overlooks one of the many terraces and the lovely pool, framed by the endless background of the gardens as they gently descend to the coastal path and the blue horizon. There are endless corners to relax in the sun or shade, as well as entertain and enjoy al fresco dining.

Inside, warm natural colours soften the clean modern lines to create a welcoming rural ambience with ultra modern fixtures and finishes. Generous living spaces, large windows and shutters give you control of the natural light that floods every corner.

The first module is for living, and has a fantastic suite above with a terrace and views across the sea. The second module has the kitchen and dining area, plus the other bedrooms. There is parking for two cars to the rear.

Access to the sea is of course simple, and the house also has its own mooring in the nearby Port Marina Sant Jordi.
