OVERVIEW

Country house on a plot of almost 11,000 m² with palm and fruit trees with exceptional views of the Tarragona countryside and the sea for sale in a natural and peaceful environment just a few minutes from Reus or Tarragona.

Lucas Fox presents this countryside house with a large plot and views of the surrounding natural environment, near Reus and Tarragona.

This extraordinary property is distributed over five large levels that ascend the side of a hill, from the access road, to the forest located in the highest area.

La Finca is accessed through a majestic motorized gate that gives access to an elegant palm tree walk that leads to the main house.

The house, completely refurbished and modernized, has three floors. On the ground floor, crossing a large glass door, we find a large room divided by a stone arch. In the space between the door and the divider, an area currently occupied by a study and a relaxation area opens up. Crossing the arch you access a living-dining room with an open kitchen and annex to this room, there is a bathroom and a pantry room, machines and laundry room.

Via an exterior staircase, we access the first floor with a large terrace with a viewpoint. Behind an armored door, you access a living room- hall with two doors that lead to a large bedroom that was unified by eliminating the dividing wall. This floor is completed with a bathroom with exterior ventilation and a group of closets that take advantage of a space under the stairs.

From the hall, a staircase leads to an open loft on the second floor, with impressive views, where the main bedroom with its private bathroom is located, completely open to the bedroom area, with natural lighting and ventilation. At this same height, there is a natural terrace, in a pine forest, which is used as a summer cinema.

From the front of the house, a large terrace opens on which we find the parking area, a summer dining room, a barbecue and some benches in front of the railing that limits this area. Next to the benches, a descending staircase takes us to the lower floor where the pool is located, a chill-out area, a gazebo and a guest house with a living-dining room, separate bedroom and bathroom. Finally, it is completed with a domosphere that acts as an annex bedroom to enjoy the summer nights.

From here, we continue descending gently and find an area full of fruit trees such as mandarin, orange, lemon, almond and olive trees.

At the northeast end of the property, there is a small building, with the renovation pending completion, which can be used as another area for guests.

A magnificent opportunity to acquire a wonderful countryside house and enjoy long days of rest in a natural and quiet environment.
