OVERVIEW

Design, materials, practicality and perfect maintenance are the most remarkable characteristics of this property.

Elegant and modern house that stands out for its architecture and design.

The sloping façade invites you to enter this home where nothing has been left to chance, and where details have been taken care of to create a unique and functional home.

We are greeted by an imposing entrance hall with a height of about 6 metres that leads to the stylish living-dining room. This open space blends harmoniously with the modern open kitchen, equipped with state-of-the-art elements. From here, we have a pleasant access to one of the terraces.

On this floor and for greater comfort, we have the master bedroom, with a set of spaces that creates an enviable set with the dressing room and the en-suite bathroom without physical barriers.

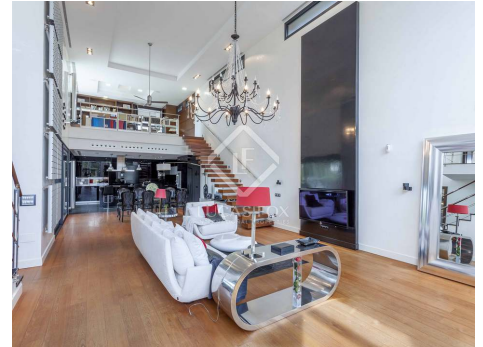

Just above, the beautiful staircase leads to another full bedroom with an en-suite bathroom. Returning to the entrance floor, another open staircase catches our attention by which we go up to an open room with a magnificent exterior panorama. Currently, it is used as an office, although it can be used for different uses. This level houses another large room.

All the rooms stand out for their natural light and access to pleasant terraces.

It should be noted that the level of finishes is top of the range, with excellent maintenance. To highlight some of its excellence, the complete home automation system allows multiple functions in this smart home. Or the striking radiators that we find throughout our tour and that blend perfectly with the decoration.

In the basement the surprises continue with a cinema room and living area. And the excellent garage with large capacity for vehicles, work area and storage.

Of course, the exterior does not clash with the interior. You can enjoy beautiful views of the sea and the mountains, with a garden on two levels that is very well cared for and at the same time very practical so that it can easily be kept in perfect condition. The house also offers a large jacuzzi that allows you to swim against the current.
