OVERVIEW

This is a 7-bedroom stone house with rustic charm, on a large and flat plot, with a swimming pool, beautiful trees and great landscaping potential. Located near the river Miño, in a quiet area of the Rias Baixas.

This is a beautiful stone house located in a quiet and secluded area of Tomiño just a few steps away from the river Minho, and surrounded by nature.

The property has a flat, carefully landscaped plot with a perimeter clearly defined by a surrounding stone wall and a main entrance through an automatic gate. The plot measures 2,600 m² and has a swimming pool and several chill-out areas under the shades of many trees. There is a main house and an annex building totalling 235 m² of covered surface. The stone house dates back to 1940 and still maintains many original features.

We enter the property through an automatic gate and park the car next to the main house. We enter the house and step in into an ample living room with a fireplace and beautifully crafted stone walls, followed by the dining room. Along a corridor we find three bedrooms and a large bathroom. All the rooms in the house have windows facing the front or the rear facade and get abundant sun light throughout the day.

At the end of the corridor, we find the kitchen and a covered barbecue area with its traditional fireplace, and an additional bathroom. There is a service entrance here that can be accessed from the side road. From this area, we can exit the house and enter the annex building.

We enter the annex building to find a large distribution area with its own fireplace, from here we can access four bedrooms and two bathrooms. The bedrooms are spacious, receive abundant sunlight and have windows with views on the garden. Throughout the property the original and beautiful stone walls have been well renovated.

There is a section in this property with parking space for several cars and the potential to make this a covered garage.
