OVERVIEW

A rustic type stone house with a renovated, modern interior. Sitting on a large and easy-to-maintain terraced plot with its water spring. Surrounded by nature and with astonishing views of the countryside.

Lucas Fox offers for sale this property with more than 400 m² of built surface spread over a large plot with several terraced areas offering stunning views of the Galician countryside.

The property has a well-defined perimeter and is easily accessible from the road, and vehicles can be conveniently parked next to the house or in a large parking area with a covered garage.

The house is a typical stone construction which gives it a solid and rustic appearance, but inside it has been recently modernised offering all the necessary comfort. We enter the house to find a spacious living room with windows that let in plenty of light. A hallway connects to a dining room and kitchen area, where a wood burning cooker feeds hot water to the central heating system.

The house has four large bedrooms with windows that allow views of the beautiful landscape or the internal courtyards of the property. In addition, there are two bathrooms finished to the highest standards.

On the lower level of the house there is a wine cellar with a tasting area and another section with plenty of storage space. The property has several additional structures, including a covered garage for several vehicles and a winter kitchen with barbecue area.

The land of this estate measures over 6,000 m² and has its own water spring with clean, drinkable and abundant water. Despite its size, the land is mostly flat, has several terraces, is covered with lawn and is easy to maintain. The views over the countryside from the various parts of the property are spectacular.

This property is ideal for a family with children looking for a peaceful country life.
